Dear Parent/Carer

I am writing to inform you that the new school website has launched this week and can be found at www.dchs-alnwick.org

Our new website will make it easier for you to find information about our school and be far simpler to navigate than our previous one. We have also introduced a twitter feed called DCHSAlnwick which will regularly update you about the many exciting events and achievements that our young people have been involved in.

Finally, can I also draw your attention to the community section of our website and within that a drop-down menu, the alumni page. We want to encourage as many ex-students as possible to complete a short testimonial of their memories and current careers. These to be published and used to inspire our current and future students. I would be grateful if you would share this new feature more widely within the community and if you are a former student consider completing it for us.

Yours sincerely

Maurice Hall
